WHAT OF THE DEPUTATION?

Over two thousand prominent men of this Province of both political parties interviewed the Dominion Government yesterday in relation to four important matters. The delegation asked for the further development of the Niagara water powers, and that all water powers under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government should not be delivered to private corporations, but held for the use of the public through the Hydro-Electric Commission. Finally they asked for the regular subsidy of $4,000 per mile to protect the Hydro-Electric lines throughout rural Ontario. They also asked for the deepening of the St. Lawrence waterway to a minimum of ten feet, so as to be able to make the full use of the new Welland Canal. Mr. Adam Beck presented the case for the Hydro-Electric propositions, and Mr. J. W. Lyon, of Guelph, for the deepening of the waterways. Both speakers laid the matter clearly before the Government.

What was the result of this display of force in the face of the Government? The members of the deputation satisfied with the result of their mission? In point of fact, they received little encouragement from Mr. Borden. What he did say was mostly in relation to granting the requests of the deputation. He made no promise, other than that their petition would be carefully considered. Evidently the matter is no further forward than it was before the interview took place. The only difference is that the Government now know what the Ontario people want. But, as Mr. Borden pointed out, Ontario is not Canada, and the development of Hydro-Electric development will have to be considered in the light of the needs of the other Provinces as well as of Ontario. Montreal, he knows, has another waterway, and on hand, which is not the same as the one Ontario is anxious to have undertaken. In view of the situation, the deputation had to be content without any assurance from Mr. Borden.

A FOOLISH MINISTER.

Col. Sam Hughes in Parliament yesterday, insulted the Liberal members in the House by calling their publicity department a "boosterism or slander-bund." He was denying a statement made in an Ontario newspaper that he had wired Sir Edward Carson giving him assurance that Canadians leaving for the seat of war at Ulster would not be hindered from going. "Some one," he said, "read the many bogus cablegrams sent out from the boosterism or slander-bund." Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Forde insisted that he must withdraw the insult, and that the efforts of the Speaker to prevent such a thing. The Colonel had to take it back—to crawl. For a time the House was in a turmoil, and the excitement in the galleries which were crowded by members of the Ontario power deputation, was as great as in the body of the House. The Minister of Militia is a French Canadian, and he is not in the centre of a "scene" of some kind, and he manages in one way or another to keep himself in the limelight. But he is certainly not an enemy of the Government. The funny part of it is that he looks upon himself as a "war lord," somewhat after the type of the Kaiser, when he is really a man in a military suit. Like the Minister of Labor, who dubs himself a Minister of Labor, the Colonel is only a make-believe—playing at soldiering.

It was only after other members of the deputation had been interviewed by the Hon. Mr. Sydney Fisher in the House, and when challenged to repeat the slander where he would have to answer for the slander, he kept his peace, and said "Concord, Colonel."

Mr. Borden might look around for a more sensible person to fill the position of Minister of Militia, and something worse or more ludicrous happens.

THE ARMY VS. THE PEOPLE.

The Tories and their newspapers are playing with fire when they approve of sedition in the British army, and applaud those officers who threaten to resign, or who have resigned, rather than do their duty. There can be no question as to the supremacy of the State in the affairs of the nation. Just as soon as the Government of the day loses control of public affairs anarchy and mob rule take its place. In the situation at present in the Old Country the Times believes that, in a moment of weakness, and in a moment of confusion, the members of the Government, with a view to conciliation, made a foolish agreement with certain officers as to the performance of their duty. That agreement Premier Asquith regarded as a stain on the honor of the Government, and has now no doubt cancelled, reading to the resignations of General French and Ewart, and perhaps others may follow. The cancellation of the agreement is the only safe ground upon which Asquith can stand. Much has been said about the coercion of Ulster and the shooting down of the Government, but the Premier has emphatically declared that the Government had no such intentions. Still, it is to recognize the fact that Carson boasted of having 100,000 men ready to defy and oppose the Government and, although any military operations undertaken would be merely taken as a matter of water powers under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government.

The developments of the past week or so have shown that the Tories are loyal only when it suits them to be loyal. Suppose the boot was on the other foot. Suppose that Home Rule is defeated—that Ulster has its way. Suppose the Nationalists demand Home Rule, and declare that they will pay no taxes until they get it. Suppose they enlist 100,000 men to help them get their demands and suppose that the Nationalists in the army refuse to act against the Home Rule when ordered to do so by the Government. What would the Tories do? There are always two sides to a question. Let the Government go to the army and let it decide between the army and the people.

THE BUILDING BY-LAW.

There seems to be a strong desire over at the City Hall to have a couple of thousand dollars by not publishing the building by-law in the newspapers, and according to statute. The by-law should be published, no matter what the cost. How are the people to know that it contains, or how are they to observe its provisions if it is kept in the dark? If it is kept in the dark, it is not a by-law, it is a secret. It is a pity to let the newspapers earn a few honest dollars, seeing that they are so much to keep the people posted on civic business. We hope that the Mayor will see to it that the widest possible publicity is given to this important by-law, one that affects the whole community, and one that everybody should know something about. If it is not desired to publish it in the newspapers, then let enough copies be struck off so that every household be in possession of one.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Did Gen. French take French leave? Graham's speech on the N.T.F.R. report was not a defence. It was an attack.

"The army versus the people" would be a victorious slogan for the Asquith Government.

The Legislature last evening voted down the tax reform resolution. The Government refuses to move.

The Toronto World owns an apology to the members of Chalmers' Presbytery Church, Mount Hamilton.

There was a heated discussion in the Legislature last evening, the result of which was the determination of the Government to stick to Regulation 17.

Now that we have 100,000 of a population and the Toronto World says its aid $1,500 a year it will be a wonder if some of the Hamilton shirkers do not make a move toward money change.

But if Sir Edward Carson had 100,000 armed men ready to defy the British Government, would it be a duty to take some steps to see that those 100,000 men did not meddle with Ulster's affairs?

The Board of Control need not hesitate about publishing the building by-law. The newspapers give City Hall advertising every year—advertising which is paid for in some other cities.

The Times was pleased to see so many members of the Bradford Liberal Club visit the Hamilton Club last week. It is a good thing to have the members and give an impetus to the work of the club.

Premier Cook, of Australia, refuses to be belated to Japan for the defence of Australia, and demands a conference of the over-seas Dominions to discuss the question of the defence of the Pacific. He is displeased at the changed attitude of Mr. Churchill. There are others.

For the Camrose (Alberta) Board of Trade, the Camrose Publishing Co., Ltd., has printed a 32 quarto page pamphlet on the subject of the fair and copiously illustrated, all the work of that office. It is an achievement which the publishing company may well be proud of.

The cable man sent over some pretty hot stuff today. Nothing less than that King George is dead, of losing his crown and that his successor will be Lloyd-George as President of the United Kingdom and of the over-seas his vice; or, as the cable is not very definite, these personages' positions may be reversed. However, we are told to not be alarmed. The change will not be made immediately. Let the army be first disciplined before the King lays down his sceptre.

Mr. Rowley's proposals to give publicity to campaign contributions tend to prohibit the acceptance of such from contractors and other interested parties received some support yesterday when Mr. W. H. Hearst introduced two measures into the House dealing with this question. There is also an Opposition bill before the House.

WHY MAPLES DIE.

(Peterborough Examiner)
There is something in the quality of the maple, but it is unsuited for many parts of the city. Why do we see so many stunted maples grow a good deal, and then suddenly die? The reason is that the habit of growth of the roots of the maple is directly downward.

There is a small tree, there is a small of great drive for a time, but when the roots go deeper—the surface on which the tree stands is not so good, there is no place nourishment and of course the tree dies.

COL. SAM HUGHES HAD TO RETRACT

Apologized For Insulting the Liberals in the House.

QUITE A HOT TIME

Captain Tom Wallace and the Ulster Trouble.

Ottawa, March 26.—Amid scenes of wild disorder and uproar, reminiscent of the bitter days of the last session, Colonel Sam Hughes was brought to his seat in Parliament this afternoon.

Passion flamed up and broke bounds, angry taunts were flung across the floor. A roar of unbridled rage drowned out the voice of Mr. Speaker and those who shouted to address him. The storm of passion threw galleries crowded with Opposition deputies into unrelenting excitement.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. F. P. Tardieu, Chief Liberal Whip, fought with earnest indignation for Opposition rights. Premier Borden essayed the assistance of his military-and naval colleagues. But Liberalism triumphed. Liberal cheers swept through the chamber as the Minister of Militia finally had to take back offensive words which he had applied to Liberal actions.

WALLACE'S CABLE TO CARBON. The storm signals were raised when Mr. Edmund Ross, of Prescott, rose to inquire of Captain Tom Wallace (Ulster York) regarding his cablegram to Sir Edward Carson, promising support for the opponents of Home Rule. Out of this history came the first outbreak, which was to be succeeded by the scenes which shook the Commons.

"I want to ask the member for Centre York," Mr. Speaker began, "regarding the cablegram he is reported to have sent Sir Edward Carson, in the force this morning I saw."

"The asking of questions in this House," interrupted Speaker, "is governed by certain rules, in my judgment this question of the honorable member does not come within these rules."

"Let him state his question first," demanded Liberal members.

Mr. Ross rose to continue, when he was again called to order by the Speaker.

"SIR WILFRID INTERVENES. "Do I understand, Mr. Speaker," asked Sir Wilfrid Laurier, "that you are appointing a member to order who has heard the honorable member out who says that he cannot state his question?"

"I have heard him say that he is going to ask regarding a certain cablegram, but questions asked must do with some matter connected with the business of the House."

"How do you know, sir, that the House is not now, just at the moment, in a position to receive the question?"

"Well, I will change the form of my question, Mr. Speaker," said Mr. Ross.

"Mr. Wallace is an officer in the Canadian militia. Is the Minister of Militia, as his superior, taken cognizance of the cablegram he is reported to have sent?"

Here Premier Borden broke in. Upon a situation which was becoming increasingly awkward for the Government, "I would suggest," he said, "that the honorable member take the usual course and put his question on the order of the day."

"But this is a matter of urgent importance," reminded Mr. Ross. Eventually, however, he yielded to the Premier's suggestion. Then the storm gathered in earnest.

COL. HUGHES PRECIPITATES STORM.

Colonel Hughes rose to a question of privilege to correct a statement made in the British Commons. He had not consulted the War Office in appointing a Commander-in-Chief to the Canadian forces. "I have not appointed a Commander-in-Chief," he said, "but I have appointed a new Chief of Staff, and I have appointed Sir John French, though not because I had to do it."

While he was on his feet, he went on, he would refer to another matter brought up in the House last week, a statement in "an obscure paper in Yorkshire," to the effect that he had given assurance that Canadian leaving for Ulster in May would not be stopped.

"BOREBORUM OR SLANDER-BUND." "Some one," he said, "read one of those may bog cablegrams sent to the bog boomerum or slanderbund."

"Order, order." "Take it back." "Make him take it back," shouted the Liberals. While Mr. Borden jumped to his feet with a point of order, "I don't know the correct title," continued Mr. Hughes. "You ought to," retorted Mr. Pardon, while angry uproar broke forth on both sides.

"I read that cablegram," Mr. Pardon went on. "Sit down," Mr. Pardon said, "and I have nothing to take back from the Minister of Militia. I have that it came from the slanderbund or the boomerum he says what he knows between the facts, and it is absolutely false and so."

"Order," Mr. Pardon shouted at the Government members angrily, while the galleries waved with excitement.

And a demand a withdrawal, concluded the West Lambton member.

MR. SPEAKER ORDERS WITHDRAWAL.

"The hon. member (Mr. Pardon) knows as an old Parliamentarian," said Mr. Speaker, when order had been partly restored, "that it is improper to say that another member has stated what he knows to be untrue."

"I am, properly, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, indignantly," for a member to make such insinuations as the Minister of Militia-boomerum—is that proper?"

"I would have answered a point of order as to that," since the statement was not alleged it had passed.

"I challenge it," exclaimed Mr. Pardon, while another outbreak broke forth.

WORK for a rise. How? Learn something the other fellow doesn't know. Go ahead. It's a cinch that you'll get a rise if you gain knowledge that has an actual cash value—you'll COMMAND more cash because you are WORTH MORE than that lags behind. Whatever position you now hold you must keep up with the times if you want ADVANCE. Better still, you should keep AHEAD OF THE PROGRESS. The latest and greatest NEW knowledge concerns the Panama Canal. To know about this modern wonder is to have something "up your sleeve" that will add to your "market value."

I. H. S. OF WESLEY

Entertained the Adult Bible Class From Dundas.

The new Sunday school of Wesley was the scene of a very pleasant gathering last night, when the I. H. S. Adult Bible class entertained the Bible class of Dundas Methodist Church. Over one hundred sat down to a sumptuously spread table in the gymnasium. After supper the guests were escorted on a tour of inspection through the new building and were entertained in its parlors. Rev. E. A. Pearson, pastor, presided over the programme which followed and toasts to the King, country, church, class and society were ably responded to by Messrs. Kemp, Clarington, Robinson, Messrs. Davidson, Moore and Simpson. Mr. King, president of the class, gave the address of welcome, and Mrs. Kyle, of Dundas, responded. Mr. H. Kent and Mr. W. L. Chumner contributed excellent solos and a chorus was sung by the class. Recitations were given by Mrs. Myrnell, Mr. Cottrell. During the evening Mr. P. A. Martin, teacher of the class, was made the recipient of a beautiful bouquet of American beauty roses, presented by Mrs. Hendry, of Dundas. In behalf of the Dundas guests, and also with a bouquet from his own class.

The Penance.
Merry Love came a-knocking—
Knocking loudly at my heart;
Smiling upon me sweetly, brightly,
But I took his, her, her gift slightly—
"Go," I said, "thou shalt not enter."
And I laughed, his misery mocking.
As I watched his slow depart.

Years passed by—Life frowned upon me
I pondered all she gave me;
Turned away from all her gladness;
Now I regret her in my sadness
To reduce to naught my life.
"Love, come back," I cried, but he, he Could not answer from the grave.
Gretchen, Mervin Wheeler, in "Who Made a World for Love."

THE TOLLS FIGHT

Tolls Exemption Causes Bitterness in Congress.

Speaker's Action Raises Harsh Criticisms.

(By Times Special Wire.)
Washington, March 27.—Administration and Anti-Administration forces forth every effort to-day to gain the advantage in the opening round of the fight in the House over the tolls to be paid by the Panama Canal Act. The leaders of both sides kept their lieutenants busy rounding up their followers, and working with the doubtful voters. Prompted by the vigorous statement denouncing the proposed special rule to limit debate on the bill, issued last night by Speaker Clark, the opponents of the measure to-day directed every effort toward forcing the amendment of the rule. As presented by Chairman Henry, of the Rules Committee, the rule would prevent the amendment of the bill. With an hour of debate left to-day, Representative Henry was beset, not only by the vigorous statement of Representative Lennox, of Wisconsin, who urged that the previous question be voted down and the rule amended. By amending the rule, the opportunity could be secured to offer amendments to the proposed bill and opponents of the measure in its present form declared that a majority of the House would favor an amendment, which would repeal the free tolls section, but would not attempt to construe existing treaties as preventing discrimination in favor of American ships. Speaker Clark's attitude caused general discussion to-day, and Administration leaders were striving to restrain their strident leaders from making a statement, declared that the Speaker's opposition was based, not only on the rule, but against the entire policy of the Administration. Feeling animosity toward the House, and the opposing factions ran high to-day, and acrimonious debate on the repeal bill was in progress.

CARSON'S CONDEMNED

By Ulsterite Opponent of Home Rule.

(By Times Special Wire.)
Montreal, March 27.—A London cable to the Gazette says: Rev. R. J. Campbell, of New Theology fame, launched out into politics at the public service yesterday at the City Temple, making a strong statement. The Ulsterist, he said, was very alarming. It was time that the God-fearing majority of the nation had a chance to make his voice heard. He had deep sympathy with Ulster being an Ulster-bred man himself. When he had returned from Ulster last year he had stated that Ulster's protest was taken seriously, although nothing apparently could then convince him that this was so. There was, however, nothing to fight about, he declared, and nothing could justify Carson in his course. If a remedy was needed, it should not be found on the streets, but at the polls. Nothing could be done by Parliament that could not be done at the next election, and it was therefore criminal folly to talk of having recourse to civil war.

MEAN MAN FOOL'D

A Boasting Wife Deserter Must Face the Music.

(By Times Special Wire.)
Cincinnati, Ohio, March 27.—Just because he chose to leave his family, Oscar Kessler, a glass worker, of this city, is awaiting deportation at Windsor, Ont., as an undesirable citizen, and will soon be brought here to face the charge of desertion of his family. Two years ago his wife complained to officials of the Ohio Humane Society that Kessler did not support her. Kessler heard of her action and escaped to Canada, and wrote boasting letters to his wife. Canadian officials were communicated with, but nothing could be done with Kessler until he stole the clock from his wife's home, and was convicted, and then declared an undesirable citizen.

ROCHETTE PROBE

He Himself Told of Surety of Adjournalment

In the Celebrated Trial of March, 1911.

(By Times Special Cable.)
Paris, March 27.—The individual who told M. Bernard, attorney for Rochette, that he had only to ask for the adjournment of the trial to have it granted, was Rochette himself, according to a long letter, dated March 25, written by M. Rochette to M. Jaures, president of the committee of inquiry, which the Matin prints this morning have published.
The Matin guarantees the authenticity, but not the veracity, of the document, which, in substance, explains that Edmond Du Mesnil, editor of the Revue, who, with the editor of the Picard, was the only one to treat him fairly, had taken up his case.
Rochette had prepared a pamphlet analyzing the issues of the great French banking house from 1910, showing that they had resulted in the loss of ten billion francs, whereas during the same period the issues of the German and English banks had increased in value by sixteen billion. He had intended to distribute this pamphlet to the public, but, being refused, he turned to the press. M. Du Mesnil, who exclaimed: "This is very grave. It is enough to make a man resign. I beg of you to do nothing until I have seen the Minister of Finance."
Rochette had taken 1911. The same evening M. Du Mesnil said to him: "M. Callaure, I am sorry to hear of your resignation. If an application for adjournment would be regarded as normal or reasonable, I would be glad to draw the attention of Premier Monis to the inopportunities of heated financial discussions at a time when the dual affairs is likely to cause turmoil in the public opinion."
Rochette then went to his attorney, who seemed very skeptical, and he himself inclined to apply for an adjournment. It was then that the celebrated words were uttered: "I am sure that the adjournment of the trial in advance, if you will not ask the President of the court."
Rochette then swore on the head of his children, that he neither saw nor corresponded directly or indirectly with either M. Callaure or Premier Monis. He wanted to know before drawing the attention of Premier Monis to the inopportunities of heated financial discussions at a time when the dual affairs is likely to cause turmoil in the public opinion.

DYAL RELEASED

Hindu Wanted By Britain Out on Bonds

San Francisco, March 27.—Har Dyal, the Hindu advocate and radical reformer, who was arrested Wednesday by the immigration officials on the ground that he is an undesirable alien, was released yesterday on $1,000 bonds, after a hearing of more than 200 Hindus accompanied Dyal to the pier, where he boarded the Government tug, the Angel Island Immigration station.
In the preparation of his defense, Dyal had intended to submit to the Secretary of Labor at Washington a copy of a pamphlet written by him, entitled "Hinduism in America," in which he says Mr. Bryan denounced the British rule in India.
Dyal's friend is said to have followed a countrywide investigation into the Hindu movement in the United States, who are suspected of fomenting sedition against the British Government in India.

Marlin, March 27.—Terrestrial rain succeeded the earlier showers just as this morning's practice ended. The sun came out strong again in the afternoon, but the grounds were flooded and the customary second work-out was abandoned.

Thieves stole the players' private bats, but the sheriff declares he has them rounded up, and will restore the property to-day.

owing to a heavy, wet field only light work was indulged in this morning on the "Giant" field. First string practice was done in a sand box, Killie taking groups of players in turn for a drill in hitting the ground from both sides of the bat.

In the big deal for an yet unnamed player famous in sporting annals there is a possibility that Jordan will figure. McGraw needs him as pinch-hitter, and that player would like to make the change.

Pitcher Kinley will be dropped at Dallas, the first of the squad to be weeded out. Otherwise Kelley will not be decided upon the disposition of the rotation in restraint of the other players. Trotter, Pitcher Bradshaw and Infielder Killilea will go to the Canadian League. They are not ripe for faster company.

Pitchers Graham and Sullivan have a fair chance of making the first squad. Kinley is shaking up like a man who can be a valuable addition to the team. Big and speedy, he plays both outfield and infield, and his right-hand.

Kinley created a good impression in pitching practice. He has speed, style and throws a nice curve ball.

Drucke worked hard and will be used in one of the Waco games Saturday or Sunday. (He continues to improve. Kinley has only looked them over so far, but his cross-fire looks effective.)

This morning the players were at 12:30, and worked until five with another two hours in the afternoon.

Jackson, Miss., March 27.—The Mississippi Game of Representatives yesterday passed a resolution expressing regret that rain prevented the baseball game between the Detroit and New Orleans teams. It was to have been played in the afternoon, but the rain was so heavy that it was invited to address the House. In the afternoon, the rain was so heavy that it was invited to address the House.

Members of both teams were guests.

Hamilton Soldiers Won From Brantford

Chester Lammond Had Eighteen Strikeouts in His Credit.

The indoor team from the 38th Division, of the Hamilton Infantry, defeated the Brantford team, 10 to 5, in a game played last evening, when the officers of the 13th Regiment, C. Company, of the Thirtieth Regiment, were defeated by a score of 10 to 5.

Chester Lammond, who is looked upon by many as the best pitcher in the city at the present time, was on the mound for the local soldiers, and had no less than eighteen strikeouts in his credit. In addition to this, he pitched for the local soldiers, and had no less than eighteen strikeouts in his credit.

Lammond has lost two games this season out of twenty-eight starts. He suffered his first defeat at the hands of the officers of the 13th Regiment, when pitching for a poor team, and his second loss to the 13th Regiment, when the St. Lawrence team, who found Chester for ten hits and seven runs, won the game.
